

Discover Newquay in the Victorian Age
Pilchards to Tourism

First mentioned in 1439 when local fishermen asked the Bishop of Exeter for help in repairing the pier, Newquay grew to be an important pilchard fishing town in the early Victorian period. At the end of Queen Victoria's reign Newquay was established as a tourist destination.

_____?

_____?

_____?

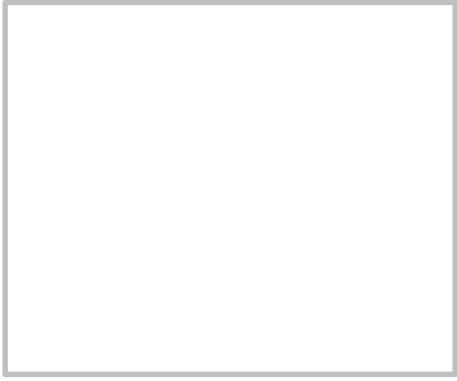

_____?

Questions & Images to be added

_____?

_____?

_____?

Questions & Images to be added